

Norberto Cruz

Mr. Cruz is currently pursuing a doctorate degree in Project Management through UNIBER. He holds a Bachelor's degree in Computer Science from the University of Puerto Rico and a MBA in Technology Management and E Business from the University of Phoenix.

Through his career, he served in the Puerto Rico Senate, he later served at the Office of Government Ethics as Project Manager and Assistant to the Director in charge of continued education. He is now the current Director of IT Management for the agency.

With over 15 years of experience, he has been a speaker at numerous events including, USAID in Guatemala and El Salvador regarding inclusive government development and technology ethics. Also, delivering speeches on proper use of social media and technology for both the private and public sector.

Mr. Cruz is an active Board Member of the Internet Society Chapter in Puerto Rico and collaborator with various media channels, including El Nuevo Dia and FayerWayer.